5% Gasoline Reserve Set Up By Oil Bureau

DENVER (AP)—A government order reserving supplies of motor gasoline to maintain essential transportation went into effect today in 32 eastern and midwestern states and the District of Columbia.

The order, issued by the Petroleum Administration for Defense, concerns operators of bulk gasoline plants, terminals and large filling stations.

About one-half of all service stations in the area, stretching from the Atlantic seaboard to Kansas and Oklahoma, will be involved, the PAD estimated.

That was the latest step resulting from the 11-day-old strike of refinery and pipeline workers in the oil industry.

Allies Halted At Red Sector

Soviet Sentries Stop Patrols At Border

BERLIN (AP)—Russian sentries barred regular Western military patrols from the Berlin-Helmstedt Autobahn today and the three Western commandants of the city said they have called the Russian commander's attention to the matter. He is Gen. Vassily I. Chuikov.

Patrol vehicles were stopped at nearby Babelsberg this morning as they started their routine daily patrols along the 110 miles between Berlin and the Helmstedt, the exit point from the Russian occupation zone to the British. Stiff-faced Russian guards gave no reason for their action.

Regular truck and private vehicle traffic continued rolling as usual, with only the normal stack-up of trucks at each entry where fussy Soviet guards check papers and cargoes. Berlin is a four-power island deep inside Russian occupation zone.

A brief statement released by the Western Allies disclosed they have had trouble about the patrol cars since Thursday night. Text of a letter to Chuikov was not made public, although in their statement the Western Allies said the action is believed due to a misunderstanding, since passage has not been refused at Soviet checkpoints to east-bound patrols at Helmstedt.

The Americans and British maintain the military patrols along this sole highway link between Berlin and the West as a courtesy aid to motorists in trouble and to keep them on the right road.

Allied use of the Autobahn is prescribed in four-power agreements just like that setting off corridors for air transports to follow to and from Berlin.

The incident gave Berlin another case of Soviet jitters. There was immediate speculation whether the action might be a forerunner of more serious Soviet attitudes.

The inquiry court resumed this morning at the naval shipyard annex taking testimony from 15 of the 58 Hobson survivors so they may be given leave as soon as possible. The other 43 were heard yesterday afternoon.

GEN. DODD FREED BY COMMUNISTS

F. Troy Cope, Founder Of Elect. Furnace Co., Dies

F. Troy Cope, 68, of 914 Franklin St., treasurer and general manager of the Electric Furnace Co., was found dead shortly after noon Friday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Jay P. Sutherin in New Waterford, where he frequently visited.

Mr. Cope had been in ill health and Coroner E. R. Sturgis said death was due to a self-inflicted gun wound.

Mr. Cope was one of the founders of the original Electric Furnace Co., which was organized at Alliance in 1911. The firm was moved to Salem in 1916 and the present company was organized in 1923.

Pioneer In His Field
At that time Mr. Cope was named treasurer and general manager, a position he has held ever since. He served also for many years as the company's chief engineer and was responsible for many advancements made in modern industrial heat treating furnace equipment.

As a pioneer in the industrial furnace field, he was a recognized authority even internationally, in modern furnace design. Mr. Cope was instrumental in developing many patents held by his company.

Since its founding the Electric Furnace Co., has grown to a major Salem industry employing 300 persons.

Although in ill health, he managed to visit his office several times a week. He was elected chairman of the board in 1937. Born at New Waterford April 13, 1884, he was the son of Joseph W. and Clara Denton Cope.

Funeral On Sunday
He was a member of the New Waterford First Presbyterian Church and served at one time as chairman of Salem's Community Chest campaign.

Besides his wife, Harriet he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. O. H. Dilworth of Salem, Mrs. John Bebout of Shaker Heights; two sons, F. Troy Cope, Jr., and David Cope of Salem; 11 grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Jay P. Sutherin of New Waterford.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the home on Franklin St., in charge of Rev. George Ramsey, pastor of the New Waterford Church. Interment will be in the New Waterford Cemetery.

Friends may call this evening at the home.

Supreme Court Refuses End To Rail Strike Ban
WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice Reed of the Supreme Court today refused to stay a no-strike order issued against three railroad unions.

The order was issued by U. S. District Judge Emerich B. Freed in Cleveland on April 23. Justice Reed made no comment in explanation of his denial of the union's request that the execution of the order be held up. The request was filed yesterday.

As Justice Reed turned down the plea for a stay order, the three railroad unions filed with the Supreme Court a request that it review the government's 1950 seizure of the railroads.

The unions asked that the seizure be declared unconstitutional and that the high court rule on the case at the same time it decides whether President Truman has authority to seize the steel industry.

The House Labor Committee released Nathan P. Feinsinger, chairman of the embattled Wage Stabilization Board—which one legislator said was stacked in favor of labor—after three consecutive days of grilling examination on the board's controversial recommendation for a 26-cents-an-hour wage.

Majority U.S. Governors Against Nationwide Primary
WASHINGTON (AP)—A majority of the nation's governors have advised the Senate they do not believe a voluntary nationwide presidential primary bill sponsored by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) should be made effective this year.

Several of the state chief executives revealed strong interest in the idea of letting voters throughout the country express their opinions on whom the major parties should nominate for president.

But about 25 of the 40 who answered, a congressional poll said they either were opposed to federal meddling in the election machinery, or believed the Douglas bill for various reasons would be impractical this year.

The poll was made by the Senate Rules Committee which has been considering the measure. It has not yet acted on it.

Douglas said in introducing the bill that he hoped it could go into effect in time to guide the July, 1952, Republican and Democrat national conventions.

U.N. Command Denies Plan To Massacre Red Koje POWs

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The United Nations command today rejected a Communist accusation that the Allies planned a massacre of Red prisoners on Koje Island to rescue an American general.

The U. S. officer, Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, was a hostage of the Red prisoners during the morning armistice talks. He was released unharmed tonight.

In Tokyo, the supreme U.N. commander, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, angrily told a news conference the kidnapping "is a situation of the Communists' own creation. . . There is no telling to what extent they will build up this incident," and "it may very well affect the Korean truce talks."

In the Panmunjom truce session, North Korean Gen. Nam Il, Chief Red delegate, referred to two Red inspired riots at Koje previously and declared "yet another massacre will be carried out against the barehanded captured personnel of our side. This is not to be tolerated."

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior U. N. command delegate, replied: "The U. N. command has always attempted to exercise humane methods. . . Some of these captured personnel have taken advantage of these humane policies, have instigated riots and violence among themselves and now have seized the camp commander whom they are holding hostage. The U. N. command will take whatever measures are necessary to eliminate this intolerable situation and restore control over prisoners of war compounds."

Only one minute of the 12-minute session Saturday was devoted to actual peace talks, tightly deadlocked over the issue of prisoner repatriation. No progress was reported but another meeting was scheduled for Sunday at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Saturday EST).

Ex-Koje Island Camp Head In Good Health
POWs Free Him After Van Fleet Threatens Force; Terms Secret

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The U. S. Eighth Army announced tonight that Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd has been released—in good health and good spirits—by Communist prisoners of war on Koje Island.

Dodd, then commander of prisoners on the island, was seized by Red prisoners Wednesday as he conferred with them at the gate of Compound 76.

An Eighth Army statement said the general's release came after a meeting of Communist ringleaders of the compound. It was attended by prisoner leaders from other compounds on the island.

The convalescence of Communist POW leaders came after Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander, made it clear he was preparing to use force if the general were not released unharmed.

The terms worked out at the conference of Red were not immediately disclosed.

An Army spokesman said Dodd would be flown to Seoul tomorrow and would hold a news conference. The spokesman said also that Communists would be allowed to visit Koje tomorrow. The island is 30 miles off the southeastern tip of Korea.

Dodd will spend the night with Brig. Gen. Charles Colson, who was appointed commander of the Koje camps the day after Dodd was seized.

Dodd was snatched Wednesday afternoon and dragged inside Compound 76, where 6,000 North Korean die-hard Communists are held. He and another officer, Lt. Col. Robert Raven, Newton, Tex., were standing by the wide, main gate of the compound, talking with leaders of the prisoners.

The pair evidently had been lured there by Communist leaders for a conference.

Suddenly, the Red POWs grabbed Dodd and hustled him inside the

Mothers To Be Extolled Sunday

Program, Sermons To Highlight Day

"Something of God is in a mother's love" is significant of the fact that mothers will be extolled from the pulpits throughout this country Sunday, the day set aside by proclamation as Mother's Day.

Programs and sermons in various Sunday schools in the city will be in tribute to Mothers. Mother-daughter dinners and parties are highlighting the month.

It was back in 1907 that Miss Anna M. Jarvis of Philadelphia was asked to present a program in her deceased mother's home church in Virginia. From this initial program sprang the observance which was fully inaugurated in all the states in 1911.

Observance soon spread to Canada, Mexico, South America, Africa, China, Japan and the islands of the sea. The day was incorporated by a group in December, 1912, and in May, 1913, the House of Representatives passed a resolution that the second Sunday in May be set aside as "Mother's Day."

In 1914 Congress designated the day officially and President Wilson set the day by proclamation, stating that flags should be flown from all public buildings and white carnations worn in honor of mothers. Carnations still are the flower symbol of the day.

A Composer of Popular Songs Turns to Hymn-writing

During the late 1850's and early 60's a poor man in his twenties rode about rural Pennsylvania driving an old plug he called "Fanny" to a ramshackle buggy that cost him twenty dollars. But, considering that he had to support a wife and feed Fanny on thirteen dollars a month, his buggy represented a sizable investment.

His name was Philip Bliss; a gentle, self-trained music-master. He had been too poor to afford an instrument and his first notes were learned on a flute he had cut from a cane back of his log cabin home in Clearfield County.

At twenty-six Philip Bliss wrote a song he called "Lora Vale." Lora was such a hit that the Chicago publishing firm of Root and Cady induced him to come to the Windy City and conduct concerts.

But the music master cared little for popular music. He wanted to write hymns and sing the songs of the church. This love led him to an association with Chicago's evangelists, D. W. Whittle and Dwight L. Moody. In ten years Philip Bliss was among the foremost gospel singers of the nation. One night he heard Moody tell of a ship wreck and he wrote, "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning." He attended a service where the preacher said, "To be almost saved is to be entirely lost," and he wrote "Almost Persuaded." At thirty-five his royalties were counted in tens of thousands... which he gave to charity.

At the Whittle home in Chicago Bliss pondered the question that many hymns were written along the theme of man's love for God. He reversed the idea and one morning while his wife waited for him to come to breakfast he wrote—

I am so glad that our Father in Heaven
Tells of His love in the Book He has given;
Wonderful things in the Bible I see;
This is the dearest that Jesus loves me.

Tho' I forget Him and Wander away,
Still He doth love me wherever I stray;
Back to His dear loving arms would I flee,
When I remember that Jesus loves me.

Oh, if there's only one song I can sing,
When in His beauty I see the great King;
This shall my song in eternity be:
"Oh, what a wonder that Jesus loves me."

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

The Secret Of Energy And Vitality

Ever since I was a boy, I've been a baseball fan-and, consequently, I'm proud to have a number of major league ball players among my friends. We aren't accustomed to thinking of professional athletes as religious people, but many of them are profoundly religious.

One well-known baseball star credits his success in the game to practicing his religion. He became interested in God's way of living as a youngster, but, as he grew older, began to wonder if it was really practical. Then he met a minister who showed him a new approach.

"If you will believe the Bible and actually practice its teachings, you will find that it will work. God will go out there on the baseball diamond with you and will help you to do your best," the pastor told him.

"Do you really mean that God will be in the ball park with me?" "Yes, I do," came the answer.

BECAUSE my player friend is one of those great souls with a genuine capacity for faith, he believed what he had been told. And, more, he acted on it. Every day, when he comes out on the field for the game, he says, "Hello, Lord." A little familiar, perhaps; but there's never any disrespect in love and sincerity. "Hello, Lord. I want to thank you for this beautiful day, this wonderful game of baseball and all of the players in it, even those on the other team."

He began to feel his efficiency increase each day and became sure that his prayer was being heard and granted. He even got to the point where he could add to his daily prayer: "I want to thank you for the umpire, too." One hot day, the temperature out on the field rose to an unbearable degree. About the fourth inning, my friend felt utterly depleted and exhausted; he thought about asking to be taken out of the game. Then suddenly a Bible passage he'd read passed through his mind. And he stood there in the pitcher's box, mopping his brow and repeating these words: "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not grow weary; they shall walk and not faint."

"Pretty soon," he told me later, "I felt cool and fresh. I could feel strength coming back to me. I lost nine pounds in that game. But, I finished with energy and vitality to spare. Nothing could knock me out of that box."

RELIGIOUS FAITH isn't something theoretical. It is a practical technique of living when you actually practice its formulas. If you conceive of God as a source of energy and vitality and draw on that source, you will learn the secret of fresh strength, greater vitality and renewed energy. When you begin to feel rundown, when your vitality begins to run out just turn to God and say: "God you are the source of all energy. You are the source of the energy in the sun. You are the source of the energy in the atom. You are the source of vitality in my body, in my mind, in my life. I hereby draw energy from you as from a baseball fan-and, consequently, an illimitable source." Paraphrase the Scripture by personalizing it. "In Thee I live and move and have my being."

Having done this, believe that you do receive this transfusion of power. It's as simple as that. "They that wait upon the Lord" with absolute faith, get new energy in such measure that they "mount up... as eagles." The essence of this technique is to be simple and to have absolute belief that you can get a renewal of energy. And you can, if only you will believe and practice being renewed.

Have faith in God as your source of energy and vitality. Draw upon it in the manner suggested above and you will have adequate power in your life.

The next meeting will be held May 27 at the Stratton home.

MOTHER'S Day and Mother's DAY

Our artist is not experimenting with his brush! There is a profound difference between these two days...

MOTHER'S Day—with the accent on Mother—is the second Sunday in May, when we honor Motherhood, and express our deep affection for Mother. Mother's DAY—with the accent on Day—is every day of the year. It is Mother's unending labor of love. It is Monday's wash and Tuesday's ironing, the meals to be cooked and the beds to be made, the bruises to be healed and the prayers to be heard.

And at the close of her DAY, Mother has prayers of her own—for her little-ones, her husband and herself.

God is answering many of those prayers through the Church. With its effective program of religious education and worship the Church can supply the spiritual needs in Mother's DAY... and in your DAY also!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Billion More Or Less

The apparent dispute between Gen. Eisenhower and Sen. Taft over what could be a safe paring of foreign-aid funds in the new budget tells the story of a basic uncertainty in the popular mind.

Both men agree that foreign aid is imperative. They agree that the amount of the aid must be determined not only by foreign need but by this country's ability to pay.

Gen. Eisenhower, being close to the need, is naturally inclined to place primary emphasis there. Sen. Taft, having dealt first-hand with the problems of federal finance during his years in Congress, naturally concentrates his attention there.

As the issue lies between the two leading candidates for the Republican presidential nomination, it is a difference of opinion about degree. Eisenhower has opened the door to a cut of approximately a billion in a presidential request for $7.9 billion.

Taft indicates that a cut of twice that much would not be out of line.

The Truman administration, meanwhile, is standing pat on a figure of $7.9 billion, with no cut in any amount whatsoever under any circumstances.

In the popular mind it seems reasonable to suppose there is more favor for some reduction than for no reduction at all. That is because in the popular mind the need for foreign aid is related indirectly to consciousness of federal taxation and to the hard fact that is the support of the people's ability to support local government.

Perhaps if Gen. Eisenhower had been in Congress as long as Sen. Taft and the senator had been in Europe as long as the general, their opinions would be transposed. It is significant, however, that both men stand opposed to the stand-pattism of the Truman administration on a $7.9 billion appropriation.

Asiatic Sleeper

One potentiality in an Asiatic standoff between the United Nations and the Communist conspiracy is never mentioned. Yet, it is the same one which is talked about freely in the standoff which is the aim of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe.

The satellites of the Kremlin may tire of the sacrifices they are called on to make for its greater glory. In Asia, the Chinese Communists may reach the conclusion that they alone are taking the rap for Russian expansion. In Europe, the conclusion may be reached by countries like Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, Poland, Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania, following the example of Yugoslavia.

No one in the western world knows what passed between Mao Tse-Tung and his sponsors in the Kremlin to precipitate his decision to go to war in Korea. No one knows what he was promised. Little is known of the present status of his drive to coerce millions of Chinese into upholding his ideology.

The apparent reason for the obviously deliberate strategy of letting it be known that the negotiations at Panmunjon either must be concluded successfully or there will be a resumption of all-out warfare is to confront Peiping with an alternative—more sacrifice of Chinese life for the Kremlin, or a truce that would give the Chinese a chance to see what Mao can do against time, the one commodity the Chinese have in limitless quantities.

Any Consumers?

With only 10 dissenting votes, the House of Representatives passed a bill on Thursday to permit retailers and manufacturers to agree on minimum selling prices for fair-trade articles.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, makes these agreements binding on non-signers as well as signers. It follows the Supreme Court decision of a year ago knocking out this selfsame non-signer practice under the Miller-Tydings Act. After that decision, a department-store price war in New York City gave consumers one of the thrills of a shopping lifetime.

The bill passed by the House on Thursday also allows the setting of maximum prices is not the issue. The issue is whether or not retailers can and should be restrained from moving goods off their shelves in a way which might give consumers one of those rare thrills of a shopping lifetime—if that is what the retailers want to do.

Naturally, among retailers there is a strong incentive to keep this from happening. It goes without saying that the controversial bill which the House sent to the Senate reflects the attitude of trade, not the attitude of consumers. Were any consumers consulted?

The 40,000 muscles in a circus elephant's trunk must amount to peanut power of about three dozen bags per performance.

Cheer up! We just read about a TV soprano who has tonsillitis and won't be able to sing for weeks.

Political Loans

By DAVID LAWRENCE
They May Become Taxable Deductions

Just a few weeks ago some of the Democratic senators were talking about the necessity of closing the "loopholes" in the tax laws. It will be interesting to see how solicitous the senate and house will be about "loopholes" now that Senator Williams of Delaware has revealed the curious method by which campaign contributors to the New York state Democratic committee were able to get a tax deduction for what apparently was a political contribution.

The Federal Corrupt Practices Act, in barring political contributions by corporations, puts a "loan" in the same category as a contribution. In the cases exposed by Senator Williams, individuals made loans to the New York state Democratic committee and then claimed that the loans could not be repaid in full and hence the unpaid balances were deductible as losses, or bad debts, for income-tax purposes.

There is no law against an individual making a loan—or, for that matter, a contribution—to a political committee. But the question of whether such a contribution is a legitimate business expense for the individual is one that has many novel aspects.

THUS, IT IS TRUE that many individuals who are engaged in business make campaign contributions with the expectation that they will receive governmental favors of the political party that they support, or the individual candidate that they help, wins the election. If their favorite candidate is defeated, it is obviously a risk, and the treasury, when confronted with losses due to speculation, does not make any distinction between ventures engaged in with a hope of profit and those which are engaged in as a result of poor judgment.

But the real question is whether a loan made to a political committee can be regarded as an investment or even as a business expense on the part of an individual. Certainly it is something new to have the Bureau of Internal Revenue declare that loans made to a Democratic political committee could not have been paid off and that hence losses could be deducted on the portion of the loan which was not repaid.

The state Democratic committee is a continuing body. The loans in question, which were made several years prior to the time when a ruling was first asked of the Bureau of Internal Revenue in 1948, apparently were not paid because the state Democratic committee claimed that it did not have the money to reimburse the lenders. But it probably did raise money in subsequent campaigns through later contributions.

EVERY POLITICAL committee goes in the hole during a campaign and usually makes up the deficit after election. Political committees of the losing party have a harder time collecting contributions after election day than those which are victorious at the polls. But because political committees exist from campaign to campaign and have a certain power to raise money at all times, it is rather surprising that the Treasury Department took the position that, because the loans had not been repaid, they never could be repaid.

The U.S. deputy commissioner of internal revenue took the view that the New York state Democratic committee "has no assets of any consequence" and that "throwing the committee into bankruptcy would have accomplished nothing towards the payment of the obligations."

This rule is often invoked in business transactions and the courts have ruled that a bad-debt deduction can be claimed in the year in which there is a fixed event or some circumstance that determines definitely that the debt cannot be collected. But the question really does not turn so much on whether a Democratic state committee is analogous to a business. The problem is related solely to the question of whether, in the guise of a loan, a political contribution has been made. The issue is whether there was at any time a "loan transaction" or whether continuously there was an understanding that at least a part of the sums would be written off as unpaid loans.

The Treasury Department usually looks to the nature of the transaction in its rulings, and a loan to a political committee would, on its face, in most instances be regarded as a contribution, because political committees notoriously are unable to accumulate assets or to give security to the lenders.

It seems probable that legislation on the subject of political loans as taxable deductions will be included in future tax legislation.

The New A-Bomb

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

YUCCA FLAT ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev.—It's ridiculous to think that one atomic bomb could win the war in Korea or even give UN forces more than a limited tactical advantage.

That is one of the first conclusions of military observers who had just witnessed the detonation of a record-sized atomic bomb.

Developing atomic ground tactics was the goal of the Army's participation in the test. It was the first time the U. S. troops attempted anything beyond merely watching the explosion. It showed just how much the Army has yet to learn before it can use A-bombs in actual combat.

This was the first problem raised by Lt. Gen. Joseph M. Swing, Sixth Army commander, a few minutes after he returned from being one of the closest willing human beings to an A-bomb explosion. He was in a fox-hole a little less than four miles from ground zero—the spot directly under the burst.

"The one used in this test was just too big for satisfactory ground maneuvers," he said. "It's going to take a lot more tests like this to show us finally just what the optimum size is for tactical atomic weapons."

"We've got to have a smaller one so that the men can go into the area of the burst faster," he explains. "Otherwise, you lose the value of surprise. If you have to wait a long time to move in, and have to go a long distance, the enemy can recover and move in just as soon as you can, and what have you gained?"

The test adds weight to the long-standing Army reaction to the bomb—that it's just another big boom like any other explosive. They feel it must be fitted into the whole system of weapons, and that it's not so revolutionary that it will change the entire science of warfare.

Military experts also agreed that the test wiped out any complacency which the military might have based on the theory that A-bombs would make up for the lack of manpower among the North Atlantic Treaty countries.

Other official military observers went beyond that to point out that the blast proved just how ineffective an A-bomb would be against Communist troops in Korea. Soldiers participating in the test were four miles from ground zero and in relatively shallow foxholes four-and-one-half to five feet deep.

They had no special protective clothing or equipment and came out completely unhurt, physically or psychologically. Swing stated that they could have been much closer—and will be for the next test.

This means that at best even such an oversized atomic bomb could only neutralize a flat area considerably less than four miles in diameter. But more important, the situation in Korea, or even in what could be expected in most of Europe in case of attack by the Reds, is completely different.

This reporter recently returned from visits to the front-line in Korea. UN patrols behind enemy lines reported the Communists have dug into bunkers, deep in the sides of the mountains and topped with heavy logs and earth. In some cases they are dug in in this fashion up to eight miles behind the line.

This makes it apparent that such a bomb as the one just detonated, even under the ideal conditions of the test, could not provide even a complete break-through corridor in the Chinese Communist line for the attacking UN troops.

This belief is backed up by the troops who took part in the test who had also seen action in Korea. Lt. Justus W. Gromme of Long Beach, Calif., who led troops during a year of the roughest fighting in Korea, has a typical reaction.

"After having seen the bomb exploded at such close range I'm convinced that it would be a waste of money to try such a weapon in Korea. We were on flat ground and in shallow foxholes and none of us got hurt or were even temporarily stunned. With the Communists so well dug in in bunkers, and with all the high hills in Korea, you'd have to drop one of these bombs right on top of a patrol in the open to do much damage to them. It would take too many A-bombs to do much of a job there."

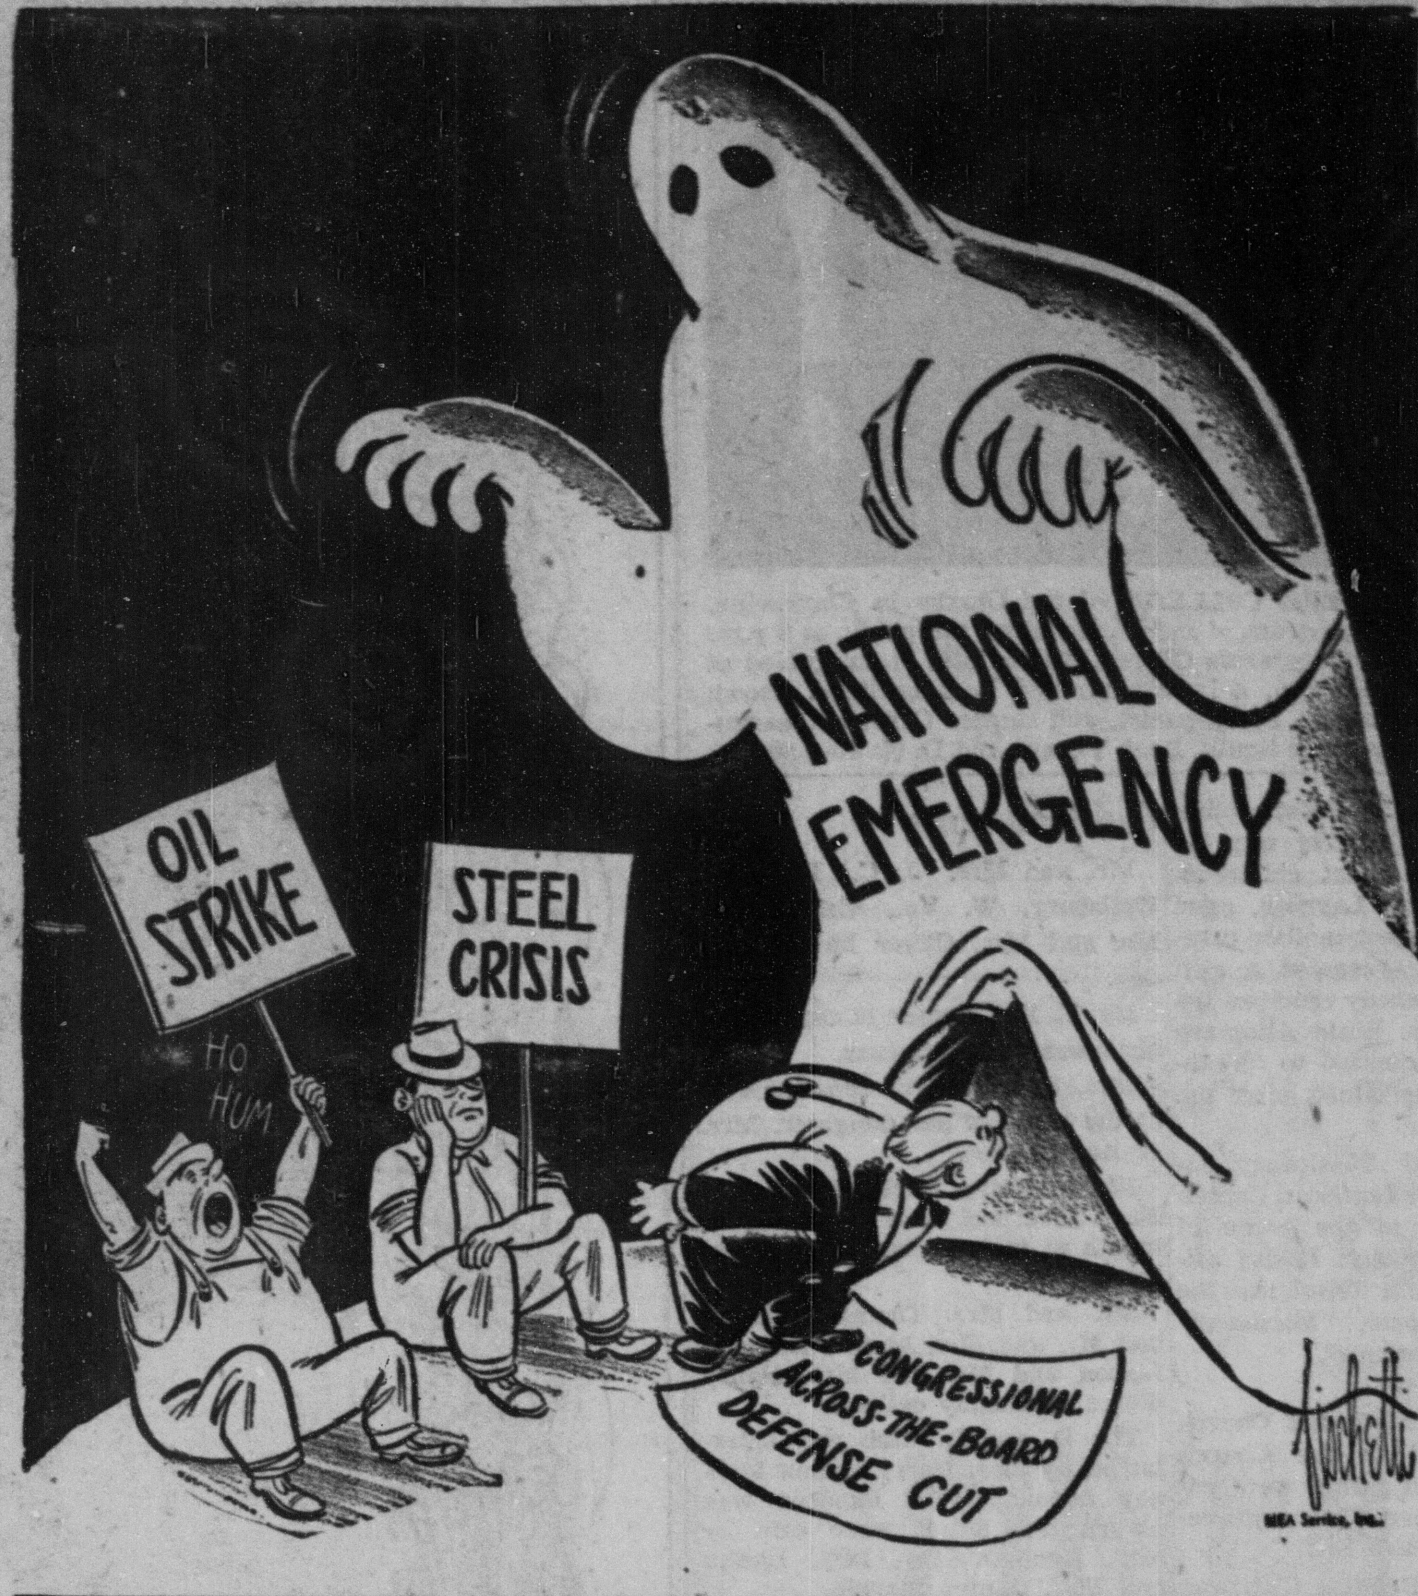

Among enlisted men who were part of the test, Sgt. Larry L. Hall of Yreka, Calif., who was in the thick of the Korean fighting for more than a year, also gives a typical comment.

"We all used to talk about how the Army should end the Korean war with an A-bomb. After going through this test I realize how silly that was. We heard a big boom and saw a big light four miles away. But with all the hills in Korea and the way the Reds burrow into those hills I don't think you'd kill many of the enemy even a quarter of a mile away."

One of the most outstanding radiation experts in the world who saw the test, Merrill Eisenbud, confirmed this general opinion. Based on a description of a typical Chinese bunker he said it could be possible for a man to survive in such a shelter even as close as 1,000 feet from ground zero.

At least, he says, men could go on fighting for a considerable time before radiation would fell them under Korean conditions of natural defense. He pointed out similar cases of persons who had survived who had been in caves at Hiroshima and Nagasaki very close to ground zero.

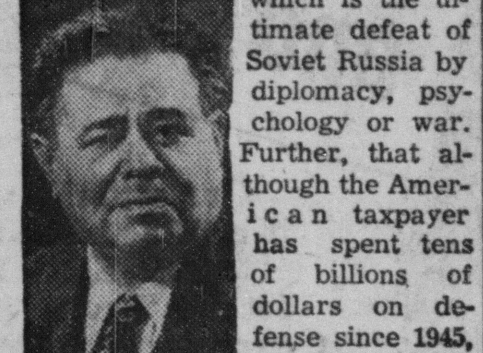

The Skeptics

The European Policy

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Sooner or later, it will have to come out that in spite of the expenditure of billions of dollars, our policy in Western Europe has failed in its essential objective, which is the ultimate defeat of Soviet Russia by diplomacy, psychology or war. Further, that although the American taxpayer has spent tens of billions of dollars on defense since 1945, our Army and Air Force are inferior to those of Soviet Russia. Secretary of Defense Lovett confirms that, but only to frighten Congress into giving him more money.

Thus far, NATO has not produced anything like the army which General Eisenhower envisaged when he asked Congress to give him four divisions. At Lisbon, NATO was reorganized, with an Englishman, Lord Ismay, at its head. The explanation that it is not Eisenhower's plan that we meet Russia, man for man, plane for plane, as General Alfred Gruenther has been saying in his speeches in this country, can only be accepted as a recession toward the position of Herbert Hoover, who has opposed the widespread use of American ground troops in Europe.

NATO's INITIAL task is to produce a European army. That has not been accomplished. Those who speak of NATO's success have little point to make, except that a European war did not happen in 1951 nor is there immediate prospect of war in 1952.

For this, NATO cannot take credit, as Russia could today take the initiative in a fighting war, if Stalin wanted to do that, with little fear of effective resistance on the continent of Europe. The reason that war has not come is that the Russians are convinced that they are successful in Asia, which is important to them, and that they are damaging the economy of the United States without firing a shot or losing a man.

The so-called Russian "peace" campaign is based on the assumption that if the United States is forced to spend huge sums on rearming itself and all the non-Soviet countries, the burden will be too great to carry and the American economy will collapse.

Meanwhile, they are building an East-West trade designed not only to supply them but to embarrass us. A phase of this embarrassment is the conflict between the United States and Great Britain over the economic future of Japan, a conflict which can force Japan into the arms of Soviet Russia.

TRADE WILL FLOW wherever it can without regard to political issues. Even in time of war, trade tries to move where it has no business to go, often through neutral countries. It is like the matter of Polish hams, which have found their way into the American market in spite of the fact that the sale of Polish commodities provides Poland with American dollars, which, in Europe, are of political as well as economic value.

A reader sent me a letter on this subject, written two years ago by Martha Deane, the radio commentator, in which Miss Deane quotes the Atlanta Products Corporation:

"... And we certainly cannot expect to retain or win the favor of friendly peoples in satellite nations under Russian domination, if we insist on treating them all as lepers, incapable of producing even a canned ham without Communist contamination..."

Who are these friendly people? Poland is today as much a part of the Soviet empire as Russia or China or Czechoslovakia. That empire seeks our destruction and the flow of dollars in its direction is a peril to our stability. Relatedly,

Central Park Ideal Spot For It

NEW YORK

The hunting season is on in Central Park. This morning and every morning during the annual bird migration time, scores of enthusiasts, armed with binoculars and identification books, prowl the glades of this 862-acre, 8800,000,000 bird sanctuary to add new species to their annual lists.

The hunting thus far hasn't been very good. Although the trees are leaved out early, making observation difficult, the migration has been late. The big wave of warblers, due May 10, may not be along for several days.

THE BIRD watchers form a kind of fraternity. They concentrate in the ramble, a brushy area near the American Museum of Natural History, and exchange the password, "Seen anything good?" as they meet from time to time.

One woman who answered, "Yes, a Cape May warbler, down that way," was nearly trampled in the rush before she got the words out of her mouth. Cape May warblers are uncommon and not to be missed.

People not in the know think the watchers a little crazy, one of them confessed, although an officer once thought of running a watcher in as a peeping tom.

In the last half century, more than 225 species of birds have been observed in the park, including 38 different kinds of warblers, a snowy owl from the Far North, a dickcissel from the West and a purple gallinule from the South. On just one day, May 10, 1927, a list of 78 was compiled. That's good in any country.

THE NICE thing about the park, from a bird watcher's viewpoint, is that birds seen there are all on the move. They drop in at night as at an oasis in a brick wilderness, but find next day it is no place to settle down. So they move on promptly, and their passage can thus be checked accurately.

J. T. Nichols of the American Museum, who has been watching birds in the park since he was a kid in the Nineties, doesn't think the hunting as good as it used to be. On the other hand Geoffrey Carleton, author of "Birds of Central Park," calls it one of the best bird watching places in 50 miles.

It's good enough anyway to attract every morning and every lunch hour hundreds of amateur—and professional—bird hobbyists, all hoping for the big day when they hang up a stupendous record of the number of birds seen or, better still, spot some strange bird that, like many a New Yorker, has found himself where he didn't expect to be.

Progress? Phooey

The island of Molokai, in the Hawaiians, is trying to come to terms with the age of jet planes, rockets and lightning communications.

For years the citizens of Molokai have been resisting some of these advances, even while taking advantage of them. But now they are under some pressure to go along with some of the impersonal features of a high-speed mechanical era.

Specifically, they are being urged to use numbers when they telephone their friends or their local merchants.

Apparently all you have to do in Molokai to get results is pick up the phone and say: "Lemme talk to Joe Mallao." This is friendly, to be sure, but it puts the burden of looking up the number on the operator, and slows down the use of the facilities.

So friendliness is being asked to yield a point to efficiency. Thus, even in Molokai, we accommodate ourselves to progress.

Canton Slayer Is Electrocuted

Edwards Fights With Guards Before Death

COLUMBUS (AP) — A convicted killer fought himself free from four Ohio Penitentiary guards about to strap him in the electric chair last night.

During the few seconds 31-year-old James C. Edwards, Canton negro, was loose, he shouted:

"I didn't do nothin' to no one! I didn't kill that lady! I haven't done nothin' to nobody!"

Edwards kicked, scratched, and snarled at the guards before they overpowered him, with the help of deputy Warden R. B. Eckle. They strapped him in the chair.

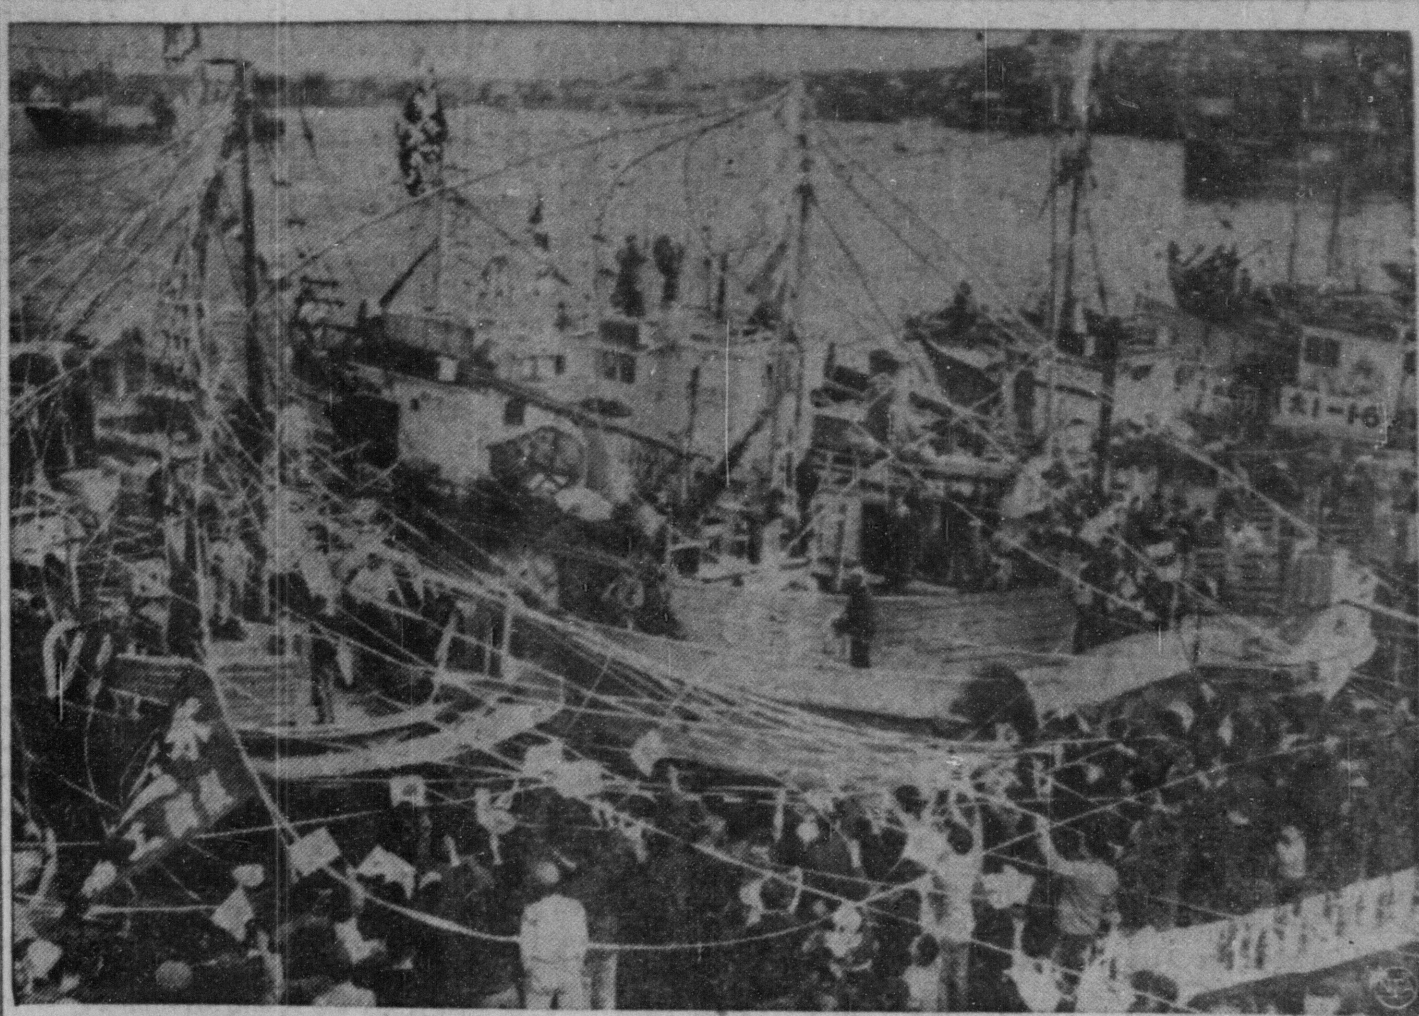

A few minutes later it was all over. Edwards died at 8:12 p. m., for killing "that lady" — Mrs. Helena Teubner, 64-year-old white widow. She was beaten to death during a robbery attempt at her home July 22, 1950.

For more than an hour before the electrocution at Ohio Penitentiary Edwards kept repeating:

"I don't want to die. Don't kill me."

His hysteria increased as the moment of electrocution approached. A reporter covering the electrocution expressed it this way:

"Edwards lost all reason as they were about to put him in the chair. That's why he made his break. He didn't fight with meanness; He fought with hysterical fear—like a cornered animal."

Edwards won a fourth stay of execution last April 18 — less than an hour before he was to die. Gov. Frank J. Lausche decided to hold off the execution until after the U. S. Supreme Court decided whether it wanted to review the case. The court decided not to. Prison officials said Edwards was prepared to die in April, and that the last-minute stay had unnerved him. They said perhaps Edwards expected the governor to act again, but Lausche didn't choose to grant executive clemency.

After Edwards was strapped in the chair, the Rev. C. Valerian Lucier, Catholic chaplain at the penitentiary, aided in calming Edwards. Father Lucier prayed, his face close to Edwards'.

Indians Rained Out In First Night Tilt; Meet Browns Today

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rained into first place again after an absence of 16 days, the Cleveland Indians open their first long 1952 home stand today against the St. Louis Browns.

A throng of 40,000 waited an hour and 10 minutes before the night inaugural here was called off. It was raining before they came into the park and kept up steadily—but not hard enough to force a quick cancellation.

The postponement, coupled with the Boston Red Sox 7-4 loss to New York, enabled Cleveland to take the league lead by a half game.

Managers of both Cleveland and St. Louis stuck to their pitching choices for the opener of what now is a three-game series. Early Wynn will go after his fifth victory against one defeat, and Tommy Byrne (2-1) will be on the hill for the Browns.

IT WAS BYRNE who beat the Tribe 8-3 in St. Louis April 22—Cleveland's first 1952 setback after seven straight victories. The next day Bob Cain beat Bob Feller 1-0 in a double-hit contest, and the Browns grabbed first place from the Tribe.

St. Louis was in the unaccustomed top rung spot for only three days before Boston took over. Currently the Browns are in a slump, having lost six of their last eight. Cleveland has won six of its last eight and is riding a five-game winning string.

For tomorrow's double-header against the Brown, Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia are to hurl for Cleveland, and Manager Rogers Hornsby probably will call on Ned Garver and Duane Pillette. Cain, who has been ailing, might pitch tomorrow instead of Pillette.

The extra day of rest won't enable any of the Tribe's three ailing regulars to start today. Catcher Jim Hegan, centerfielder Larry Doby and first baseman Luke Easter all will stay on the bench with sore muscles.

TRAINER WALLY Bock says Easter's thigh is so tender he probably won't play before Tuesday night's opener of a three-game series with the Yankees.

But shortstop Ray Boone has done valiantly in Easter's clean-up position. For three games in which he's batted fourth, Boone has driven in nine runs on seven hits in 12 times up.

Last season Boone averaged only .233, but he was hitting in tough luck and wasn't as bad as that percentage. Time and again he hit the ball well, but unfortunately right at some fielder.

The Indians cut their roster to 27 today by sending Dino Restelli, right-hand hitting outfielder, to the Indianapolis American Association farm club on option. Restelli, 27, was obtained on waivers from Washington last December. He trained with the Tribe this spring until the club started East, then left for his home in San Francisco.

Jim Laughlin Hitting .444 With Mount Union

Jim Laughlin, regular first baseman with the Mount Union College baseball team, is currently the third highest hitter on the club with a .444 average.

Laughlin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Laughlin of 759 E. Fourth St., had eight bingles in 18 trips to the plate. The leading hitter on the Purple Raiders' team is Ed Shultz, catcher from Alliance, and Joe Vadini, second baseman from Pittsburgh, is the runner-up.

Hank Siefke, pitcher from Lisbon with a 2-1 record, is hitting .333, ranking sixth among the hitters. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Siefke of Lisbon.

Today a year ago — The Philadelphia Athletics traded Outfielder Sam Chapman to Cleveland for Outfielder Allie Clark and Infielder Lou Kline.

Leetonia Claims Class B Crown

Wellsville Is Third; Salem Winds Up Fifth

By SKIP GREENISEN

Thirteen events gone and East Palestine leading, 50 3/5-46 3/5, the East Liverpool Potters rallied in the final event of the mile relay to force a tie in the 49th annual Columbiana County track meet held at East Palestine last night, each netting 51 3/5 points.

The Potters relay team beat off Wellsville on the final lap to capture the event for five points while the Bulldogs managed to get a single point by besting Columbiana for fourth place in the event after trailing the other four teams for the first three laps and the two teams ended in a deadlock.

Wellsville's Bengals ended a long third in the six-team meet with 18 3/5 points, Leetonia placed fourth and managed to capture the Class B crown with 13 3/5 points, Salem's Quakers pulled up with 10 3/5 points for fifth position and Columbiana finished last in the field with eight markers.

TONY CONKLE, East Palestine runner, was the outstanding individual of the meet as he garnered 20 points, getting first in each of the four events in which he was allowed to participate. A high school junior, Conkle burst a 19-year-old record set by Russell of Salem in the shot put with a heave of 48 ft. 2 in.

Conkle, however, didn't stop with one first. He was the winner of the high hurdles and 100-yard dash before setting a new record in the 180-low hurdles, scampering over them in 21.3 seconds. That bettered the mark of 21.6 seconds set by Tripp of East Palestine last year.

Glenn Young of East Palestine remains the holder of the 22-yard low hurdles which he set in 1950.

EAST PALESTINE took four firsts in the initial four events with Conkle owning three and took an early lead in the meet. However, East Liverpool came back with three straight firsts and a tie for first closed the gap to three points with eight events finished. Rain began then and continued through the remainder of the meet as the top teams ran neck-and-neck. Despite this Conkle set his low hurdle record and the Potter mile relay team shortened the relay time by three seconds, making it 3:37.7. The mark enabled them to tie the meet, although the entire four laps were amidst a downpour.

When the meet was completed East Palestine held six firsts, East Liverpool had five and a tie for one, while Columbiana and Leetonia each had one. Salem's Eddie Votaw tied with the Potters' Paul Willis in the pole vault with Wellsville the only team failing to get a first, although they finished third in the meet.

THE SALEM team had a bad night of it as only four Quakers placed in the meet. Jim Watterson picked up a second in the discus with a heave of 116 ft. 10 in., Tommy Johnston managed a second behind the long-strided running of Dick Scott of East Liverpool, Votaw tied for first in the pole vault and Maurice Sinsley finished in a five-way tie for third in the high jump, getting 3/5 of a point.

Jim Cusack qualified in the shot put after fouling three times with a toss of 39 ft. 10 1/2 in., but fouled again in the finals and failed to get the weighted ball past the 40 ft. 10 in. mark. Bob Sebo qualified in both the 100-yard dash and the low hurdles but didn't place in either event.

The Results Shot put—Conkle (EP); Jenkins (EL); Bush (EP); Valeno (W); 51'5". (New record beating throw of 48'2" set by Russell of Salem, 1938).

Discus—Bush (EP); Watterson (S); Foster (W); Chadwick (EL); 129'3". High hurdles—Conkle (EP); Spann (W); Wilson (EL); Meek (EP); 18.3 seconds.

100-yard dash—Conkle (EP); Harvey (EP); Booth (EL); Carter (W); 10.3 seconds.

Mile run—Scott (EL); Johnston (S); Thornberry (EL); Hollaway (EP); 4:55.

Half-mile relay—East Liverpool (Hilliard, Allison, Howard, Booth); Wellsville; East Palestine; Leetonia; 1:38.4.

High jump—Scott (EL); McBride (C); Sinsley (S); Grimm (L); Kline (EP); Shanks (W); Stoddard (EL); all tied for third place, 5'6".

Pole vault—Votaw (S) and Wilson (EL), tied for first; Henry (EP) and Kibler (EP), tied for third, 10'.

440-yard dash—Billett (L); Cooper (EL); Shanks (W); Dubas (EP); 54.3 seconds.

Low hurdles—Conkle (EP); Allison (EL); Meek (EP); Pullie (W); 21.3 seconds. (New record beating time of 21.6 set by Tripp of East Palestine, 1951, for 180-yard low hurdles).

Rivera, Mizell Fail To Show Prospects As Valuable Rookies

(By The Associated Press) The expected prizes of St. Louis—Rookies Jim Rivera and Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell—have fizzled so far in their bids for Major League stardom.

Both recruits, touted during spring training as the probable Rookies of the Year in the American and National Leagues, have flashed too rarely the form that made them standouts in the minors.

Rivera, 29-year-old outfielder of the Browns, has collected only 13 hits in 66 trips for a lack-luster .197 average. Rivera has ridden the bench of late but was let out Thursday and came through with a game-winning homer against Philadelphia.

Mizell, the gangling lefthander of the Cardinals, has been the victim of the "big inning." The youngster, hailed as a "lethargic Dizzy Dean," sails along in fine style then suddenly seems to lose his stuff. He blew up again last night, losing his third game as Cincinnati beat St. Louis, 8-3.

THE PRIZE PITCHING prospect lost his Major League debut to Ken Raffensberger and Cincinnati, 2-1, when Joe Adcock socked a two-run triple in the first inning. The next time out Mizell had Chicago beaten, 3-2, going into the eighth inning when he blew up and yielded four runs to be charged with a 6-3 loss.

Mizell won his third start, 3-2, with a neat four-hitter over Philadelphia but he bowed last night to the Reds.

The kid had the Reds eating out of his hand until the seventh inning when he blew sky high and was tagged for seven runs. Adcock ruined Mizell again, this time with a three-run homer. The rally wiped out a 2-0 St. Louis lead.

Raffensberger's victory was his fourth and his second over Mizell. The triumph also enabled the Reds to take over third place from Chicago. The Cubs' scheduled game with Pittsburgh was postponed because of cold weather. The remaining National League clubs were idle.

Veterans Johnny Sain and Bobby Hogue, former Boston Brave stablemates, teamed up to stop the Red Sox. Sain drove in three runs on a homer and double before he left at the end of the seventh inning.

Sain was struck on the right kneecap by a liner from the bat of Billy Goodman in the second inning and was forced to retire after the seventh when his knee stiffened.

Lefty Bill Wight, a former Yankee making his first start, and Sain were locked in a 2-2 duel going into the sixth when errors by Johnny Pesky and Jim Piersall handed the Yanks three unearned runs and the game. The victory ended a three-game New York losing streak.

The Chicago White Sox won the longest game of the season as they defeated the Detroit Tigers, 8-5, in 16 innings and scored the third on Ed Robinson's single. The three runs were unearned as they were set up by Johnny Lipon's error.

DETROIT RALLIED in its half of the 16th, loaded the bases with one out but Bill Kennedy ended the four-hour and 27 minute battle by striking out George Lerchen and getting Johnny Groth to ground out.

Little Bobby Shantz pitched the Philadelphia Athletics to a 9-3 victory over the Washington Senators in the only American League night game. Shantz permitted six hits in gaining his fourth triumph.

Controlled TV Football Casts Being Drafted

NEW YORK (AP)—Controlled television of college football will again be possible this fall under the National Collegiate Athletic Association program now being drafted.

It probably will be in a broader basis than 1951 although the survey made by the NCAA television committee through the National Opinion Research Center showed television does definite damage to college football attendance.

"This year's television will be spread among more colleges," said Bob Hall, Yale athletic director and chairman of the TV committee. "The colleges acted with the full knowledge they are hurting themselves."

Last year's college TV program presented an elaborate pattern each week. On some Saturdays a single game was televised across the country. On others a game from one section would be televised only in another section. Each week certain areas were blacked out to test attendance effects.

"TELL IT to the chaplain," is a common military expression for anyone who complains about his troubles. Chaplains, especially in the United States Air Force, go a long way to listen to these troubles, whether at a remote airbase in the Pacific, an ice-bound airstrip in Alaska or in the deserts of Africa. These clergy in uniform counsel the puzzled, comfort the troubled and aid the distressed. From civilian life, a clergyman first goes through a four-week course in military customs at the Armed Services Chaplain school at Fort Slocum, N. Y. After graduation, he gets his assignment as full-fledged "sky pilot" who sometimes resembles the old-time "circuit riders" whenever he takes aerial trips to remote posts. Some 875 Air Force chaplains, like their brethren in other services, are watching their flock, whether it's a homesick GI or someone who wants solace in time of need.

Route 14 By-Pass To Get Airing Plans Underway For Sale Of Ledger

COLUMBIANA — Arguments for and against proposed changes in Routes 14 and 46, involving the Route 14 by-pass along the northern boundary of Columbiana, will be considered by representatives of the State Highway Department at a public hearing in the assembly room of Columbiana city hall at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, May 27.

* Specifications for the proposed changes embrace the entire project of the Route 14 by-pass from a point on the present Route 14 northwest of Columbiana to a point east of Columbiana where it again joins Route 14. Between those points, West Salem St. and East Park Ave. of the present Route 14 will be abandoned as parts of a state highway and revert to the Columbiana County highway system and the street system of Columbiana village. Route 164 will remain a state highway from County Line Road through the public square and along West Park Ave. and Lisbon St. Route 14 will follow the by-pass east.

C. W. GRISWOLD, publisher of the Columbiana Ledger for the past 24 years, announced today that he was negotiating with an East Liverpool man for the sale of the weekly paper.

Mr. Griswold said that the negotiations are progressing favorably and that ownership of the paper might exchange hands by June 1. A publisher of the Ledger for 24 years, and active in newspaper work for 45 years, Mrs. Griswold intends to retire if the sale is consummated.

DUGOUTS, on which work is in progress, are being provided for the baseball field in Firestone Park with funds contributed to the park by Columbiana merchants. The dugouts are expected to be completed before the opening of the Columbiana County American Legion Junior Baseball league season, Sunday, June 1.

The Columbiana and Salem teams of the league will play a pre-schedule game at Firestone Park at 2:30 p. m. Sunday. There will be another meeting of the county league officials at the Columbiana Legion home next Friday evening, May 16, when it will be definitely decided what teams shall constitute the league. Columbiana, Salem, East Palestine and East Liverpool are the present members.

Rev. D. J. Voelm will be installed as the new pastor of Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. Rev. Dr. Roland Luhnman, vice president of Northeast Ohio Synod and pastor of Pilgrim Collegiate Church, Youngstown, will preach; Rev. Arthur Swinehart, pastor of Austin-town Community Church, will preside, and Elder William Stalter of Youngstown will assist in the installation.

MOTHER'S DAY observance at the Methodist Church at 10:45 a. m. Sunday will include reception of members and baptism.

The Columbiana branch of the W. C. T. U., meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Erma Barber, 126 South Middle St., made plans for the annual flower exchange at the next meeting, Thursday afternoon, June 12, at the home of Mrs. Cora Vanskiver, 517 Fairfield Ave. For the flower exchange everyone takes a bouquet for the sick or shut-ins. Plans for obtaining new members were discussed. Mrs. J. C. Hennon, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. L. A. Herd, whose husband is just home from the hospital recovering from an appendicitis operation.

Two pantomimes by five High School senior girls, Joyce Little, Patty Grimes, Suzanne Heintzelman, Marcia Bevington and Molly Malone, were features of the program of the mother-daughter banquet of the W. S. C. S. in the Methodist Church dining room Thursday evening, attended by about 200 including 20 men of the church who served as waiters. Mrs. James Ruhl presented awards to Mrs. Frederick, youngest mother; Mrs. Frederick Theiss, oldest mother, and to Mrs. L. A. Way and Mrs. H. C. Unger for the most daughters present, each having the same number.

OTHER FEATURES of the program were mother-daughter welcome and response by Mrs. Otto Stacey and daughter, Jane Ann; piano duet, Mrs. Robert Cline and daughter, Gretchen; original poem, Mrs. George Seederly; instrumental solo, Arlene Schall; reading, Darlene Brittain; solo, Mrs. Robert Maurer, accompanied by his daughter, Judy; violin solo, Mrs. Raymond Mackall, accompanied by Mrs. Gordon E. Warner; reading, Mrs. Gordon Hess; instrumental duet, Mrs. Gordon Warner and daughter, Rosalie.

Ticket sales for the buffet supper in Pavilion 4, Firestone Park, at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, which will open the Columbiana Chamber of Commerce annual membership drive, will end at 10 a. m. Monday. They may be obtained at the Citizen's Bank, Union Bank, the Todd Insurance Agency or Wells' Drug Store, or from officers and directors of the chamber.

In recognition of national music week, the Columbiana Music Study Club will present the Salem Men's Chorus in the Methodist Church at 8 p. m. Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Winters

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Agnes B. Winters, 52, died at 1:30 p. m. Friday in the North Side Hospital in Youngstown of a heart ailment following a four months' illness.

Gen. Dodd

compound. Raven managed to fight his way from the arms of the Reds and escape.

For three days, the Reds held Dodd prisoner, meanwhile negotiating with him for settlement of the prisoners' grievances.

American meals were passed in to the 52-year-old general and he was allowed free use of the telephone inside the compound. Over this telephone he asked camp authorities to refrain from using force to get him out until the Red leaders had completed a list of their demands.

Saturday morning the Army said they had granted some of the Red demands—"minor requests" which included use of a telephone, writing paper and the admittance of prisoner leaders from other compounds on the island. Approximately 80,000 Reds are held on the island—most of them are among the 70,000 prisoners who have said they will return to Communism.

Koje has been the scene of two bloody earlier prisoner riots. On Feb. 18, a batch of Reds rioted and 75 prisoners were killed and 135 wounded as American troops opened fire to stop it. One American soldier was killed and 38 wounded. Dodd was named camp commander two days later. Another riot erupted on March 13 and 12 prisoners were killed and 26 wounded.

While the Reds held Dodd captive, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, on the eve of his departure for Europe, issued a stinging blast at the kidnapping. He ordered Eighth Army Commander James A. Van Fleet to use "whatever force is necessary" to get Dodd out.

Allied Patrol Hits Red Lines

U.N. Downs 13 Planes In Week, Loses 20

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—An artillery-supported Allied tank-infantry patrol smashed into Communist lines and fought an all day battle Friday with 1,000 Chinese on the Korean western front.

An Eighth Army spokesman said the patrol pulled back at night after the heavy engagement northeast of the Panmunjom truce site. The Allied force struck at 9 a. m. It was met by a hail of Red artillery and automatic fire as the Chinese rushed up reinforcements to build the defenders' strength to a battalion.

The U. N. troops fell back slightly to permit Allied artillery to shell the Chinese.

The Fifth Air Force in a weekly summary said Allied planes shot down 13 Communist aircraft, probably destroyed one and damaged five. The Air Force said it lost 10 planes in combat, one in an aerial fight and nine to Red ground fire.

The Air Force said Allied planes Friday ranged almost to the Yalu River boundary between Korea and Manchuria in renewed strikes against Communist transportation routes.

ed in a few areas, the nation is not expected to feel a major shortage of gasoline for a least a month.

PAD officials said they do not expect the average motorist to feel any immediate effect of the latest order. Filling stations generally maintain stocks well in excess of five per cent of their storage capacity.

Local shortages seem most likely in eastern and central states because of difficulties in transporting products to the point of need, the PAD stated.

Airlines continued cropping use of high-octane fuel wherever possible. In recent developments, Eastern Airlines cancelled 25 flights between New York City and 26 other eastern cities.

Defense Secretary Lovett cancelled all flying activities planned for Armed Force Day celebrations May 17.

O. A. Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers International, which heads the coalition of 22 CIO, AFL and independent unions on strike, said strikers won't return to work without a settlement.

Hopes now ride on a May 13 meeting in Washington, D. C., between the WSB and representatives of management and the unions.

increase package and the union shop.

The board adopted a resolution yesterday allowing productivity and annual improvement raises for the rest of 1952 on contracts negotiated prior to the January 1951 wage freeze.

2. Government efforts to settle the Western Union strike failed again. As negotiations recessed indefinitely yesterday, the company demanded elimination of the union shop while the union reduced its demands to an 18-cents-an-hour wage increase.
